

EXECUTIVE RECRUITER

Due to our growing market share, Wayne Russell Search Consultants is actively searching for an experienced recruiter/staffing or consultative sales solution oriented person to add to our team.

This person's role as an Executive Recruiter requires:

- Developing recruitment strategies to identify high performance talent in the market place.
- Strong interpersonal skills to effectively communicate, build relationships and networks within the industry.
- Qualifying prospective candidates' career background, abilities and contributes as a fit for the client's personnel requirements, while determining the prospects career interest and objectives.

The Firm's two Principal owners have over 40 years of combined search, recruiting and staffing experience in providing effective staffing solutions to our client employers, while providing career opportunities to our candidates. Our Firm's cultural is committed to training, developing and providing growth opportunities to its members.

For additional information please visit our website www.waynerussellsearch.com

To be considered for this position forward your resume jim@waynerussellsearch.com